

Our data only consists of one table which has 198 columns. Creating an ER diagram is not optimal for the project data we are working with. Given here is our table name with a few of our key metrics we used ect.

atributes